

Class Four: Privacy

In our fourth class (continuing into the fifth class) we are going to cover fundamental concepts and principles of privacy. Tackle the reading early in the week since it is more extensive than most weeks.

1. Read Fair Information Practices (very short)
<https://www.fpc.gov/resources/fipps/#:~:text=The%20Fair%20Information%20Practice%20Principles%20%28FIPPs%29%20The%20FIPPs,processes%2C%20programs%2C%20and%20activities%20that%20affect%20individual%20privacy> and watch the short video that is embedded in the above link (7 minutes).
2. Read Solove, Daniel J., The Limitations of Privacy Rights, 98 Notre Dame Law Review 975 (2023) (file attached).

Prepare to discuss:
  - a. The limitations of privacy rights (practicality/impracticality).
  - b. Structured/measured approaches to privacy.
3. Gain a basic understanding of the European Union General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), which is a model many current global privacy regulations are based on:
  - a. Read the GDPR overview provided at: <https://gdpr.eu/what-is-gdpr/>
  - b. Skim the GDPR Checklist at: <https://gdpr.eu/checklist/?cn-reloaded=1>
4. Gain a basic understanding of the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA)/California Privacy Rights Act (CPRA), which gives you an idea of the direction privacy laws are moving:
  - a. Read the CCPA/CPRA overview at: <https://www.oag.ca.gov/privacy/ccpa>.
  - b. Read the short web-article <https://privacyrights.org/resources/california-privacy-rights-act-overview>.
5. Prepare to discuss privacy issues presented by the Perfect Grocery case study (the file is attached in the first week's reading).

Also, we'll continue our privacy discussion in the next class through the case study entitled Facebook's Privacy Breach: Challenges of Managing an Information-Based Supply Chain Risk (HBP Coursepack - <https://hbsp.harvard.edu/import/1059357>).
